Discipline Policy

Guiding children toward respectful, self-directed behaviour within a warm and consistent classroom community.

At Tiny Explorers, discipline is understood as guidance — helping children become individuals who can engage and cooperate successfully within a group. It is not simply behaviour management, but a foundation for respectful, self-disciplined membership in our community.

01

Our Approach

Our teachers work to prevent discipline issues before they arise, guided by the following principles:

- Establish clear, consistent boundaries and gently remind children when they approach these limits
- Design daily schedules and classroom setups suited to the developmental needs of preschoolers
- Reinforce and celebrate positive behaviours, encouraging children to build on them
- Help children express feelings and thoughts in appropriate, constructive ways
- Model calm, firm responses that demonstrate expected behaviour
- Use positive language that communicates what is expected
- Teach the communication and problem-solving skills children need to resolve conflict independently

02

When Guidance Is Not Enough

If a child consistently struggles to respond to these approaches, a teacher may briefly separate the child from the group for a short, supervised "time out." Any ongoing behavioural concern is always discussed with the child's parents.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

"Supportive, sensitive, caring teachers are key to fostering self-discipline."

Our ultimate goal is to help each child develop the self-control and discipline needed to thrive both in the classroom and beyond.
